

He has cheeks that beg to be pinched and a smile to light up a room. Mateo was born with a brain injury, and as he grew, it developed into cerebral palsy and epilepsy.

His treatment at Gillette Children's Specialty Healthcare includes medication to control his seizures, speech and physical therapy and tests to monitor his progress. Today, Mateo is blossoming in ways never expected during his first months of life. He's walking, talking and laughing.

By supporting Gillette you help kids exceed initial expectations—and give them a chance to giggle.

To read more about Mateo, visit gillettechildrens.org/Mateo